Company Overview

Borro is the world's first and largest online pawnbroker. They offer their clients loans from £100 to £1,000,000 within 24 hours secured by valuables they already own. It is a smart, discreet and convenient way of borrowing, with the fairest valuations and interest rates. There are no set-up fees or hidden costs and the client can redeem at any point throughout their loan. As result of their approach they are servicing a completely new client base. 75% of their clients are first timers for pawnbroking, and their average loan amount is £1000.

Borro.com was founded by Paul Aitken and is led by an experienced team of entrepreneurs and managers. Their investors and board members include Eden Ventures who were European Venture Capitalist Fund of the Year for 2007 and European Founders whose current investments include Facebook and LinkedIn. Together we are committed to building a long-term and successful pawnbroking business.
